The eighth instruction la as follows: "The jury can not convict the defendant upon the testimony of an accomplice unless such testimony he corroborated by other evidence tending to connect the defendant with the commission of the offense; and the corroboration is not sufficient if it merely shows that the chiense was committed and the circumstance thereof."

It is objected to this instruction that it permits the jury to find guilt from the unsupported testimony of more than one accomplice and inatraction B No. 2 was asked by the defense in these worda:

"The evidence of an accomplice in thia case is not aufficient to convict unless the same is corroborated by other evidence tending to show the commission of the offense and connecting the defendant therewith, and the evidence one of accomplice or coconspirator does not and can not cor roborate another accomplice or coconspirator."

The instruction asked and refused may not be strictly accurate in lorm.for it may be said that while one accomplice hy his testimony alone, or at least may, corroborate anothernevertheless the idea is accurate that they do not corroborate each other lor the purpose of conviction, in the absence of other testimony.

The jury should have been told that they could not convict the defendant upon the testimony of an accomplice or accomplices, nniess such testimony be corroborated by other evidence tending to connect the defendant with the commission of the offense, and the corroboration is not sufficient if it merely shows that the offense was committed and the circumstances therefore In Robertson's Crim. RIGHTH INSTRUBTION ALSO ERRONEOUS | SAUCE. It is agreed that this was erroneous, but there is variance of opinion as to whether it was prejudicial. Unless this instruction was necessarily proje ndice, or at least may have been so. The most material testimony upon the question whether the conspiracy was to mnrder was that of confessed accomplices, and if the jury in the exerciae of their prerogative disbelieved the other eveidence upon this question, they might have reached a different conciusion had they been told that they cond not convict upon the uncorroborated testimony of accompilees. Our views upon this queation are aufficiently stated in considering the prejudicial character of the seventh instruction.

For the reasons given, the indgment s reversed and cause remanded, with directions to award appellant a new trial, and for futher proceedings con sistent herewith.

Use Benson's Plaster for coughs, colds, chest diseases, rhenmatism, grip, neuralisis, kidney trouble, lame hack, and other silments that make Winter a season of suffering and danger. It relieves and cures quicker than any other remedy.

Do not accept Capaicum, Strengthening or Belladonna planters in place of Benson's, as they possess none of its curative power.

Insist on having the genuine.

The people of every divilized land have testified for years to the auperlative merit of Benson's Plasters and 5,000 physicians and druggists of this country have declared them wortby of public confidence.

In official comparisons with others, Benson's Plasters have been honored with fifty fee highest awards.

To get a really good cup of coffee you'll have to start back of the actual making; you'll have to look to the roasting and the grinding. In ARBUCKLES' you have a coffee that's scientifically roasted, and delivered to you with all the pores of the berry hermetically sealed. You're sure of a good cup of coffee because all the coffee flavor and aroma are kept intact until you want it. The fame of ARBUCKLES' induced other coffee packers to put out imitations of it. These imitations cost the grocer (and you) a cent a pound less than ARBUCKLES'. But don't be tempted to buy a package of some other coffee when you can get
